

Midnight sun tour at the low mountains and introduction to better take photography

Come along with me on an unforgettable midnight sun tour, up on the low mountains Dundret. The tour starts from the train station in Gällivare and goes by a big bus up to the top of Dundret. During the trip up, you get a guide on how Gällivare has developed.

On the top you pick up your camera, and despite types of camera, you will get an introduction how you can take better pictures and preserve your memories.

Then you get time to enjoy the view and maybe can feel relaxed just by spending time outside. You are offered a light meal (swedish fika) that is locally inspired and maybe uses the newly acquired photography skills while you see when the sun never sets
